

Selection Criteria

- Spirit & Place events should offer inventive, “wow-like” approaches and provide attendees with fresh insights and “ah-ha” moments. Consider participatory program formats, creative partnerships, unique venues, bold topics, and thought-provoking presenters.
- Richness of opportunities for audience engagement/interaction. Events should engage audience members on multiple levels. Consider design strategies that involve the senses, physical movement, and/or the intellectual and creative contributions of the audience itself. When possible, events should provide attendees a mechanism to stay engaged with the issue and/or each other.
- Capacity to communicate and execute a well-planned program. Even the most engaging and creative events need to be clearly articulated and well-organized. Your application should demonstrate you have thought about who your audience is and how you will design an event for them.
- Strength of collaboration. Applicants are required to collaborate with at least one other external partner. Interdisciplinary collaborations—those between rather than within—the arts, religion, and humanities are preferred, but not required. Also preferred are collaborations that demonstrate a willingness to share authority and event design responsibilities.
- Connection to the theme. The theme should be central to what the audience will learn and experience.
- Understanding and commitment to Spirit & Place’s mission. Through creative collaborations, Spirit & Place believes the arts, humanities, and religion help make communities great. Together, we can create civically engaged communities, tackle big issues, and build lasting bridges.

The Selection Committee often gives special preference and rank more highly applications that provide:

- "Never-before-seen" opportunities that illuminate the theme.
- Dynamic and interactive events.
- Bring together diverse ideas, people, and organizations.
- Creative endeavors that tap into people’s passions and to inspire them to be more engaged in their communities.
- Collaborations based on shared authority and co-creation.
- Interdisciplinary events featuring the arts, humanities, & religion.
- Interfaith events involving non-Abrahamic traditions.
- Opportunities that highlight, celebrate, and intentionally include the complex diversity of our community across faith traditions, age spans (we welcome youth events!), life experiences, and ability levels.
